

SPEIGHTS EARNS FULL SCHOLARSHIP TO NEBRASKA

Amara
Speights

Amara Speights, 18, a senior at Freedom High School in Woodbridge, Va., this fall will attend the University of Nebraska as a student/bowler on full scholarship. A National Honors Society member who currently serves as manager of "Lady Eagles" junior varsity basketball team at Freedom, the right-hander intends to study behavioral sciences. Speights, who considered several schools with top bowling programs before making her decision, believes her performance at the 2017 Junior Gold event in Cleveland first caught the attention of Nebraska recruiters. She since has heard from PWBA member Lindsay Boomershine, a former Husker. Nebraska, with its traditional powerhouse bowling team, has long been coached by two-time PBA titlist Bill Straub.
