

The Best Bowling Tip I've Ever Had

The best tip I've ever had was given to me by a friend, Lee Marshall, after I came back home from the PBA Tour in 1973 and had been in a slump. He explained that I must perfect my own game and do what I do best and stay within my own limitations, rather than change my game during competition because of what others are doing.

It's been a valuable reminder throughout the years whenever I've started trying to duplicate actions of other bowlers.
