Brunswick Makes It All Possible

More than a million dollars in cash and prizes will be paid to Mini Eliminator bowlers in this very special 10th Anniversary event, and much of the credit for it's tremendous success goes to our presenting sponsor, the Brunswick Corporation.

Brunswick, the world's leader in bowling, goes all out for the Mini Eliminator and for the hundreds of bowlers who participate in each event. In this special event to celebrate our 10th birthday, Brunswick has it's great team of engineers, ball designers and customer service people on site to give Mini bowlers the best service and equipment in the industry.

Nine professionals are here at the Mini representing the world's best ball company - they are Research and Development Engineers Ray Edwards and Billy Orlikowski, Product Specialists Ron Bragg, Ric Hamlin and Larry Verble, PBA Support Specialist Rick Benoit, Technical Specialist Tom Tomaras, and Marketing Representatives Kyle Johnson and Deb McCumber.

All of these good people have been assisting Mini bowlers all week and doing their best to help every bowler be the best they can be on the Mini tournament conditions, and at the end of the event, almost 1000 new Brunswick balls will go home with Mini Eliminator bowlers. Mini bowlers have been scoring all week with great balls like the new Inferno and several of the Fuze series balls, and they have used the practice range and drilling room to prepare their equipment for competition.

Brunswick is also involved in other aspects of this special 10th Anniversary event; for example, a Brunswick pool table will be given away Sunday in the 10th Anniversary Sweepstakes drawings, as well a beautiful Bayliner Boat. Bayliner is a division of the Brunswick Corporation.

Over 300 Mini bowlers rolled in the very exciting $80,000 Brunswick Shootout which concluded on Thursday night with New Yorker Jeff Walsh winning the $14,000 top prize.

So, hats off to Brunswick, and we look forward to many more years of working with the best sponsor in the business to bring Mini Eliminator bowlers the best megabuck event in the world.
