Rule Amendment Clarifies Average Verification for 205 and Under Division

With an ever increasing number of international bowlers entering the Mini Eliminator events, it has become necessary to expand and clarify the 205 and Under division rules.

The rule states a bowler must have an "ABC/WIBC verifiable non-sport or tournament condition league" average, with a minimum of 40 games each year for two years.

It also states that "anyone that has been a member of the PBA, Senior PBA, LPBT/PWBA, cannot bowl in this division."

Effective today, an amendment will be added to the rule that also makes any player who has ever been a member of any FIQ/WTBA recognized NATIONAL TEAM, and anyone who has won a title in any FIQ or WTBA international competition will also be ineligible for the 205 and Under division. It will be the bowler's responsibility to report national team membership or FIQ/WTBA titles upon entry.

Further, any player who falls in this category in the 2004 Super Bowl Mini Eliminator will be moved to their proper age division. If a player who is moved out of the 205 and Under division has already qualified for the finals, he or she will remain in the finals and those affected by the vacated spots in the 205 and Under division will be moved up in the standings, which will result in more players making the finals. The Mini Eliminator will add cash spots for these bowlers in this event.

"Nothing is more important than the integrity of this event, and we constantly strive to be absolutely fair to all bowlers in all divisions," said ME Tournament Director Frank Ellenburg. "This rule amendment will be a positive change that makes our events more fair for all bowlers in our events."
